

Minutes of Adams County Certified Local Government Commission
September 14, 2021

Present were Sandra Leininger, Nancy Carmichael, Marti Gebbie, Joan Haley, Linda Sargent, and Jim Reynolds. Raelynne Risser was introduced and welcomed as the new Corning Main Street Director.

Haley moved and Sargent seconded the approval of the agenda.

Reynolds moved and Haley seconded the approval of the August minutes.

The CLG grant for the ground-penetrating radar survey was completed. Leah Rogers was a big help along with three consultants – professors from the University of Iowa and Luther College as well as an archivist from Cherokee. The results are expected by the end of December.

Iowa's People & Places Pop-up Exhibit is now displayed in the Corning library meeting room. A proposed opening of the exhibit including a reception with refreshments will be discussed at the October meeting. Jim and Jon are checking the online toolkit for possible resources to use with the display. Other locations for the exhibit were suggested including the Prescott Library, Southwest Valley Activity Center during the basketball season, the Courthouse, and the Villisca Middle School.

The Walnut Grove Cemetery Workshop on Sept 11th was well attended.

The Mauderly Grave Site repair, cleaning and fencing were discussed. Haley will contact the farmer for an estimate on a feasible date.

The Southwest Valley School committee meeting was tabled.

In other business, council meeting reports were provided by Jim and Nancy for Corning, Linda for Carbon, and Joan for Nodaway.

The minutes were compiled from notes taken by Nancy Carmichael and Linda Sargent.

Respectfully submitted: Jon Brokaw, Secretary
